PASTOR'S PAGE

Friends,

I do not ordinarily write about politically charged issues, but in this case, the issue confronting the state of California – and by extension, all of us – is one that I believe is not a political issue, but a moral one.

I am referring to abortion, and specifically its treatment in an upcoming bill in California, AB 2223. While it is relatively unsurprising to hear that a secular political body is trying to expand abortion in a society that is increasingly godless and self-absorbed, there is an especially troubling element to this bill: the inclusion of the word perinatal. This word is significantly left undefined by the wording of the bill, which would lead any reasonable person to presume that the authors of the bill intend us to understand its definition as it is found in the dictionary. Perinatal is defined as, “relating to the time, usually a number of weeks, immediately before and after birth” (emphasis added). In other words, by not placing any limitations on the definition of the word perinatal, the authors of AB 2223 are essentially attempting to legalize infanticide. This is not hyperbole. In its current configuration and wording, AB 2223 would decriminalize killing children in the first several weeks after being born. This is why I believe that it is not an issue of politics, but of morality, and of basic humanity. It is also why I am asking you to please first and foremost pray, but also to contact your representatives and tell them that this cannot come to pass. Any law that gives the strong permission to kill or exploit the weak with impunity is immoral and unjust. But if we are legally permitted to kill infants, where does it end?

Until recently I would have been surprised to hear anyone except the most ardent supporters of abortion (or euthanasia) say that killing children outside of the womb was morally justifiable. Unfortunately, the world we live in today is one where an outraged abortion group (“Ruth Sent Us”) threatens to burn the Eucharist in response to prayers of the faithful. Yes, you read that correctly. Ironically, and perhaps unintentionally, this group has tipped the hand of the ultimate source of abortion, because such a grave sacrilegious threat, if serious (and there is every reason to believe that they meant what they said), can only have a demonic source. Nor should this be terribly surprising if we consider the similarities between abortion in our own day and age and the ritual sacrifice of children and infants to the Baals and Ashtoreth in ancient Canaan and Israel, a practice that is referred to in Sacred Scripture as, “sacrificing to demons” (Psalm 106:37; Jeremiah 19:4-6; etc.). This is not to say that everyone who supports abortion is an occultist, but that abortion itself is a modern continuation of the ancient work of demons.

Make no mistake, brothers and sisters, we are engaged in a great spiritual conflict, a war that is being waged throughout the invisible realms at every moment. And in every season of the Church’s life, we are being called upon to stand and fight, not with the weapons of this world, but with the weapons of grace. Frequent the sacraments and PRAY. Pray for conversion, ours and those who resist the Lord’s mercy. Pray for reparation, in particular for the many sins against the Sacred Heart and the Blessed Sacrament. Pray for healing, especially from all of the wounds caused by abortion. But please, with all your heart, PRAY! Prayer is our weapon, and it is stronger than anything the world tries to throw at us. Do not believe the voice of discouragement, do not listen to the voice of fear, and do not be afraid to stand beside Christ. We were born for just a time as this – and thanks be to God, we were allowed to be born. So with all your heart, pray!

Praying beside you,

Fr. David
