The Gospel of Luke takes you on a journey that begins with the foretelling of John the Baptist's birth and culminates in Jesus' ascension into heaven. In Luke: The Story of Salvation Fulfilled, you will witness key moments in salvation history including the Annunciation, the Nativity, his public ministry, and Jesus' suffering, death, and glorious Resurrection. There are parables found only in Luke, including the Prodigal Son, the Good Samaritan, and the rich man and Lazarus which will show you the mercy and compassion that Jesus has for each one of his children.

In this 8-part study, Jeff Cavins and Dr. Jeffrey Morrow will show you the beautiful Biblical roots for Mary, the Rosary, and the Mass that are found in Luke, strengthening your prayer life like never before.

The Catholic Church dedicates the month of October to the Holy Rosary, primarily because the feast of Our Lady of the Rosary is celebrated on October 7. The feast was established by Pope St. Pius V in 1571 to commemorate the Christian victory in the Battle of Lepanto on that day. The victory was attributed to the Virgin Mary's intercession, which was sought through the recitation of the Rosary.

GOSPEL REFLECTION

27th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Today we continue to read from the Gospel according to Mark. For the past three Sundays, we have been hearing Mark's reports of conversations between Jesus and his disciples. Recall that in Mark's Gospel, Jesus uses these private moments to teach his disciples in greater detail about the Kingdom of God. Beginning with today's Gospel, Jesus returns to Judea, Jewish territory, and resumes his public ministry. The first verse of chapter 10 of Mark's Gospel tells us that crowds gathered around Jesus, and he taught them, as was his custom. Immediately, the Pharisees approach Jesus to test him.

The Pharisees question Jesus about the lawfulness of divorce. Under specific conditions, divorce was an accepted practice among the Jewish people during the time of Jesus. It was regulated by the Law of Moses, as found in Deuteronomy 24:1-5. This law only permits that a husband may divorce his wife if he finds her to be indecent. This is the justification that the Pharisees reference when Jesus inquires about the commandment of Moses. In reply, Jesus quotes from the Book of Genesis and counters that God's original intention was that men and women would become one flesh in marriage. Jesus describes the teaching of Moses as a concession made to God's original intention because of human stubbornness.

In private, Jesus' disciples question him further about this teaching on divorce. It is to his disciples that Jesus lays out the implications of his teaching by explaining that remarriage after divorce is adultery. Jesus' teaching was more restrictive than the teaching of the Pharisees, which permitted remarriage. Jesus further distinguished his teaching from the cultural norms of his time by applying his words equally to men and women. Jewish culture permitted only that a husband may divorce his wife. Wives were not permitted to divorce their husband for any reason, including adultery.

At first glance, the final part of today's Gospel seems unconnected to the previous teaching about divorce. When read together, however, these passages present a strong picture of Jesus' emphasis on the importance of family. God intended for women and men to be joined together in marriage. Among the purposes of marriage is the raising of children. By welcoming children and fostering their relationship with God, parents and families bear witness to the Kingdom of God.

At the end of today's Gospel, the people were bringing their children to Jesus, and again Jesus' disciples show that they just don't get it. Recall that in the Gospel for each of the past two Sundays, Jesus has taught his disciples the value and importance of these "little ones" in the Kingdom of God. Yet in today's Gospel, the disciples try to prevent people from bringing their children to Jesus. Jesus reprimands his disciples and welcomes these children. Again Jesus offers these children as an example of the kind of complete trust and dependence upon God that ought to be the attitude of all believers.

ANNOUNCEMENTSNATIONAL
Eucharistic
Revival*We can all do this. It's not hard.by Bishop James Conley*

Did you know that the word for Mass comes from the Latin word Missa? This is where we get the word mission. "It Missa est," (the Mass is ended), now go in peace. Go out into the world and become missionary disciples.

But how do we do that in a practical way? How do we share the loving gift of the Eucharist? How do we share it with those who have fallen away from sacramental life in the Church, or those who are not Catholic at all?

Well, first of all, we must love them. We must show them that we care. We must treat them with dignity and respect. We must listen to them, and be authentic, transparent, trusting and vulnerable. This is the only way to win hearts and minds. Without first building trust and authenticity, people will not really believe us.

The good news is that we can all do this. It's not hard. We are all well-quipped for this mission. Everyone can do this, and here's how: the National Eucharistic Revival is calling us to "Walk with One."

What does that mean? Right now, there is someone in your life whom Jesus longs to call to himself. Who is that person? Who is that one person you know who would be much happier and content in life, if he or she only knew and loved Jesus in the Eucharist?

On the Eucharistic Revival website, there is a simple "Walk with One" guide that presents a four-step process that anyone can do. Obviously, not everyone is called to spread the Gospel in foreign lands, or even to go door-to-door in his or her own community. But I think the Lord is asking each of us to step out of our comfort zone and evangelize one-to-one. Who is that one person for you? Who is that one person you can see yourself walking with over the next six months, year, or more?

Go to the Eucharistic Revival website and download the "Simple Guide." You'll be amazed at how easy it is. It's just four steps: identify, intercede, connect, invite. That's it.

Here they are, in brief:

- 1) Identify: prayerfully ask God, who is that one person you want me to walk with?
- 2) Intercede: as soon as you discern who it is, then pray like crazy for that person.
- 3) Connect: look for ways to walk, hang out, get coffee with this person – and then listen to this person. Let that person tell you his or her joys, hopes and struggles, and share yours, too.
- 4) Invite: follow the promptings of the Holy Spirit, and invite the person to something Catholic (adoration, bible study, Mass, confession, a talk, to pray the rosary, to listen to a podcast, read a book or watch a powerful movie, etc.) Then talk about it.

If you're already down that road 'walking with one,' and need the next step, most parishes are just starting up OCIA (Order of Christian Initiation for Adults) classes; invite that person to attend, and go with them. You can even attend without them, to better understand the faith yourself.

We know that we have been given an amazing gift in the Holy Eucharist. Do we allow ourselves to be amazed at such a wondrous gift? We all – myself included – need to pray for an increase in Eucharistic amazement. Whenever we receive a truly awesome gift, we naturally want to share it with others. We want to tell others about the gift. We want them to enjoy the gift, too.

Lord, increase our gratitude for the gift of your Son in the Holy Eucharist. Help us to find ways to share this amazing gift with others. Give us the courage and the confidence to be bold but joyful. And give us the grace to commit ourselves to "Walk with One."
