PASTOR'S PAGE

Come Let us Adore Him, Christ The Lord

Today we celebrate the Feast of The Epiphany of Our Lord. The word 'epiphany' comes from the Greek word meaning "to show forth" [epi-, forth + phainein, to show], it means specifically for us the showing forth of Christ's divinity. As the divinity of Christ is something not manifest to bodily eyes, The Father chose to employ signs to show forth this divinity which was otherwise veiled in the flesh of Christ [Heb 10:20]. There are many different forms of this epiphany of Christ (e.g. The Baptism of the Lord, The wedding feast of Cana, The Transfiguration), but on this feast during the Christmas season we celebrate those that take place at the time of His birth, those to the: Magi [Mt 2:1]; Shepherds [Lk 2:8]; and Simeon & Anna [Lk 2:25ff]. Because Christ is the "Light of the World" the Father chose to manifest the divinity to those other than Israelites, but He reveals to each according to their ability to receive the sign given, hence God uses different signs for different classes of people. This is because, as St. Thomas teaches "...to man knowledge is imparted logically through a syllogism from something which we know better; so knowledge given by signs must be conveyed through things which are familiar to those to whom the knowledge is imparted." E.g. Signs at an airport, traffic signs, etc.

Thus to the Magi God revealed via the guiding star [Mt 2:2]. Now as pagans look at the unusual in nature (anomalies), so the kings saw the rising star and astrological events as a sign of divinity. God reveals through a star for it is fitting for them. God reveals, not to all pagans, but to those who show faith, so that as Christ said, He "...came to call not the righteous, but the sinners..." [Mt 9:13].

To the shepherds, however, God uses not a star but an angelic herald. This is because as Israelites they were accustomed to angelic interventions. Just as the entirety of the Old Law was conveyed through the ministry of angels [Heb 2:2], so too the divinity of Christ is manifested to the shepherds through angels [Lk 2:13]. This is to show, as St. Paul writes, "He chose the foolish things that He might confound the wise." [1 Cor 1:25].

To Simeon & Anna moreover, God uses not an angelic herald but the interior inspirations of the Holy Spirit [Lk 2:26]. This is because as intimate friends of God who were in the Temple constantly praising God in prayers, offerings, and fasting, their "Gifts of the Holy Spirit" were most receptive, thus enabling them to be accustomed to the inspirations of God, The Holy Spirit.

Finally, lest we be deceived into thinking that astrology is a true form of knowing God, we should reflect upon the fact the guiding star was no ordinary star. For, 1) It appeared not only at night but also at midday -- not even the moon does this. 2) It appeared visible at one time and invisible at other times. 3) The movement of the star was not continuous, but as the pillar of cloud/fire in the desert of the Israelites fleeing Egypt. 4) The movement was specific to the place of the virginal birth of the Messiah.

Thus in Our father's Divine Providence we find that He cares for the well-being and spiritual good of all. He directs all things in accordance with our abilities and does not send us something that we are unable to carry in life, however difficult. The means of salvation will never be wanting to those who turn to God in humble submission for the forgiveness of their sins. Indeed, this is why God comes to us, to visit us, to save us from our sins and ourselves.

New Year Blessings,
Father Tim

First Corinthians The Church and the Christian Community

The conflicts of the early Christians in Corinth are in many ways similar to our struggles today as Christians. With divisions, immorality, persecution, and other trials of the faithful, the message of St. Paul to the Corinthians is a much needed message for our own times. First Corinthians explores the key elements that the apostle Paul introduced to a new and growing Church. St. Paul taught the Corinthians about the nature of grace and the Church as the Body of Christ. In addition, he introduced the Corinthian Christians to the most powerful gift of all, the Eucharist, which, along with Christian virtue, leads to a life of joy.
